Mr. Warfield via

The attached memorandum responds to Colonel White's request for feedback on the Interdirectorate Briefings. I got the information in the memo from representatives of each of the other Directorates and from John Richardson, who sat in on the DD/P staff meeting where the DD/I briefing was discussed and who also participated in a meeting where Jack Smith discussed his reaction to his own Directorate's briefing as well as DD/S's.

DD/S 66-2770: Memo dated 27 MAY 1966 to Ex. Dir.-Compt. from Acting Deputy Director for Support re Interdirectorate Briefings.

27 MAY 1966

MEMORANDUM FOR: Executive Director-Comptroller

SUBJECT : Interdirectorate Briefings

1. This memorandum is for your information. It responds to your request for feedback on the Interdirectorate Briefings that have taken place to date.

2. DD/I has now made its presentation to each of the other Directorates and has, in turn, been "hosted" by the DD/S. Thus, each Directorate has been the "guest" at a briefing. From the comments we have received, including remarks made at each of the Directorate staff meetings, reactions to the briefings appear to have been uniformly favorable. The presentations have been characterized as "very informative, useful, and worthwhile."

3. In each case, some surprise has been registered regarding the breadth of the "host" Directorate's activities, thus, in effect, validating the need for briefings of this sort to get key officials better acquainted with the work of other components. And a number of members of each group have expressed pleasure at the chance to meet their opposite numbers in the "host" Directorate, some of whom they had not seen before.

4. It appears, therefore, that the briefings are moving along quite well and seem to be accomplishing the principal objectives for which they were designed.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Executive Director-Comptroller

SUBJECT : Interdirector Briefings

1. This memorandum is for information only.
2. On 22 April 1966 we reported that the first four interdirector briefings had been scheduled, three involving presentations by DD/I and a fourth involving the DD/S presentation to DD/I.
3. Dates have now been arranged for five additional briefings, leaving only three still to be scheduled. DD/S&T will brief DD/P on 2 June, DD/I on 14 June, and DD/S on 21 June. DD/S&T, in turn, will be briefed by DD/P 7 June and by DD/S 16 June.
4. Remaining to be scheduled are the briefings between DD/S and DD/P (tentatively slated for the latter part of June) and the briefing which DD/P is to give DD/I. When these dates are set, they will be reported to you.
